

You can put critically needed medical supplies in their hands.

Each day in Florida, tons of surplus medical supplies end up in landfills while lives are lost around the world because of a lack of these same supplies.

MedShare is the proven bridge for recovering and recycling such supplies from hospitals and manufacturers and redistributing them to medical facilities in developing countries.

Since 1998, MedShare has:

- Sent 700 40-foot containers of medical supplies and equipment to needy projects in 88 countries
 - Outfitted over 2,100 medical mission teams
- Created opportunities for more than 50,000 volunteers
- Diverted over 2 million cubic feet of useful surplus from waste streams nationwide

Bridging the gap between surplus and need.

Help us bring MedShare to Florida

Volunteer

- Join the effort to bring MedShare to South Florida.

Contribute www.medshare.org/donate

- Donate to our initial expansion efforts in Florida.
- Sponsor shipments, from individual boxes to full 40-foot ocean containers.
- Give to our Urgent Humanitarian Relief program to help us respond when disaster strikes.
- Encourage your company or religious group to adopt a MedShare project.

Spread the word

- Tell your family and friends about MedShare.
- Connect us with potential partners in South Florida.
- Follow us on Twitter and Facebook.

Local Contact:

Daniel Goldberg, MD
MedShare Trustee & Chair, Florida Expansion
dgoldberg@medshare.org

Staff Contact:

David Pass, CFRE
Chief Advancement Officer, MedShare
dpass@medshare.org
404.537.5080

www.medshare.org | www.medshare.org/florida

